Cleanup of Cemetery Is Urgent Need

American Legion Seeks the Co-operation of All Lot Owners

All-Year Supervision Is Aim of Members of Local Organization

The American Legion is interested in caring for the local cemetery in such a manner that each succeeding year will see it looking cleaner, neater and more presentable. To secure this desired end they again urge every local family who have friends or relatives buried there to clean up not only the lot in which they are particularly interested, but a little bit around it for good measure.

It is far better that this work be done by the loving hands of friends and relatives than by strangers. So lot owners are urged to get their lots cleaned up before May 15. Lots uncared for after that date will be attended to by a man employed by the American Legion.

The cemetery site is very beautiful with its view of the mountains and valley and if properly cared for it will be an asset to the community.

The Legion has carried on the work of beautifying the cemetery each year with funds subscribed by lot owners and others who care to contribute. If the donations are generous enough it is the plan of the Legion to care for the cemetery not only during the short period prior to Decoration Day but to keep it looking presentable through the entire year.

Make all checks for the fund payable to Henry Olsen, adjutant, Sierra Madre Post American Legion, No. 297, and leave either at the office of the Sierra Madre News or at Mr. Olsen's shoe store.

The Legion adjutant would like the name of every soldier who served the United States in any war and who is now buried in the local cemetery so that not one may be overlooked when the Post decorates the service men's graves on May 30.

Impressive Ceremony for Young Sierra Madran

Because Moe Rosen of the Sierra Madre has become "Bar Mitzvah," four trees are being planted in Palestine, one by the parents of the boy, one by A. M. Tonniss, president of the Los Angeles Jewish National Association, and the fourth by Mr. Brown of this city.

The impressive ceremonies were held in the Jewish community house Saturday evening, April 28, the first of its kind ever performed in Sierra Madre. Moe Rosen presented his part of the program in a remarkable manner, according to those present, and astounded everyone by his mastery of the Hebrew text.

A. N. Tonniss, president of the Los Angeles Jewish National Fund association, congratulated the lad, and spoke on the importance of Jewish education. A. Platt, president of the local association, also took part in the ceremony, and was again thanked by the people of the community for his splendid work in their behalf.

Over $30 was collected for the new building soon to be erected on Central Avenue near Baldwin. The building will be used for an educational and social hall.

Square Deal Lunch Room to Enlarge

So popular has the Square Deal Lunch Room become that Mr. and Mrs. Card have decided to enlarge the facilities for serving meals. The partition dividing the room will be moved back so that tables can be installed to supplement the lunch counter. Additional help will also be employed, and the room will be redecorated to make the place more attractive in every way.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Evans returned home last Friday from Arrowhead Lake where they have been spending a week.

Girl Reserves to Present Players in Program Here

An event of considerable interest is forecast in the announcement that players from the Community Playhouse in Pasadena will appear in Sierra Madre the evening of Saturday, May 19. They will appear in "Orchids," by Margaret Cameron and the production will be staged at the Woman's Club.

A short program of musical numbers will precede the play, and an admission fee will be charged, the proceeds to be used by the Junior and Senior Girl Reserves in financing the attendance of several members at the summer conference at Asilomar.

The complete program and further announcements will appear in a subsequent issue of the News.

Mrs. W. F. Gilbert of Hermosa Beach has been spending a few days this week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry M. Olsen.

Miss Vannier Goes Abroad For Methods

Nursing School Heads Will Spend Summer Visiting European Schools

Miss Marian L. Vannier, director of the school of nursing at the University of Minnesota and daughter of Mrs. E. H. Vannier of 153 South Hermosa Avenue, started this week on a European tour of several months. She will sail from New York next Thursday and remain all summer.

Study of the methods in European schools of nursing will occupy most of Miss Vannier's time. The points of interest in the nursing field where she hopes to obtain ideas for her work at Minnesota University include the College of Nursing at the University of London, International Public Health course at Bedford College, London, the Nursing Center at Vienna, which is supported by the commonwealth of New York, International Nursing Headquarters at Geneva, and the Bordeaux School in France. The latter is a memorial to American nurses who died during the world war. It was built with funds given by American nurses.

Miss Vannier will spend May and June in England and Scotland. She will then cross to the Scandinavian countries and will visit Germany and Austria, making the circuit of Italy, Switzerland, France and England. She will sail for home on Sept. 7.

Ball Teams Are Planned For League

Ball Players Call Practice in Effort to Arouse Interest in Series

All the boys (no maximum age limit) who have been harboring an ambition to get out on a sand lot with a ball and bat, can now have the opportunity they longed for. Next Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock is the appointed time, and the public school playground is the place. All are invited.

Waverly Pratt and George Norris are the chief plotters in the enterprise. They hope to enlist enough interest to work up a real team which can represent Sierra Madre in a neighboring league. Monrovia has a "Twilight League" which plays thru the summer, the games being held after working hours. If enough talent is uncovered, it is probable an effort will be made to crash the gates and get into real league company with one or more teams.

Playground or "army ball" is the game. Regulation baseball seems out of the question in Sierra Madre for lack of a large enough level area. The other variety is entirely feasible here, and affords plenty of excitement when well played.

Career Was Notable For Wide Travel

G. Arthur Gray Spent Many Years Visiting Remote Parts of Earth

Gave Valuable Aid to Federal Government During World War

G. Arthur Gray, who passed away Saturday afternoon as the result of accidental shooting while cleaning a revolver, had a career which was notable for many things. Although he had lived in quiet retirement in Sierra Madre, he had traveled widely and engaged in varied activities of importance.

Funeral services for Mr. Gray were held Monday afternoon at the Grant funeral parlors. The services were conducted by Rev. A. O. Pritchard, pastor of the Congregational Church. Mrs. E. E. Bacon sang appropriate selections. The remains were cremated and will be taken east for interment later.

Mr. Gray was born in Waltham, Mass., in 1847. He had resided in Sierra Madre since 1920. His wife passed away in 1918 and he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Archibald Webster of Philadelphia, a former resident of Sierra Madre, and by Miss Maude Gray who resided with him at 535 West Highland. Mrs. J. C. Dickson of 169 W. Montecito is a sister.

For forty years Mr. Gray was a commercial traveler. He had traveled nearly every state in the Union and had crossed the Atlantic forty-four times on business trips. He had seen parts of every continent, covering 300,000 miles of ocean travel and a million and a quarter miles of railroad travel. He spent three years in China, experiencing some thrilling adventures in forbidden territory, and at one time narrowly escaped capture by Malay pirates. He has been surrounded by ice bergs and ice floes with no water in sight, and twice was on board a ship burning at sea.

Mr. Gray, with a few associates from Harvard University financed and restored the "Great Serpent Mound" in Ohio, explored many other works of the Mound Builders, explored the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky, and was the author of magazine articles and lectures on these subjects. For twenty years he devoted a great deal of time to genealogical and historical research, his work receiving high praise from authorities.

In his earlier years Mr. Gray was active in Masonic work, being master of Corinthian Lodge at Concord, Mass., and high priest of Walden Royal Arch chapter. He was honored with important offices and committees in grand lodge and visited Masonic bodies in many states and foreign lands.

For twenty-three years Mr. Gray was with the U. S. Rubber Co. During the World War he was with the federal quartermaster's department as an executive in the purchase of rubber goods.

Past Masters Confer Degree For the Lodge

Degree work by the past masters of the lodge and a dinner served by Billie Murphy afford the double attraction for the meeting of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, P. & A. M., next Tuesday night. This will be the first "past masters' night" in several years and a 100 per cent attendance of the men who have gone through the chairs is hoped for. It is planned to have the degree of Master Mason conferred by a team made up entirely of past masters.

W. J. Lawless, J. A. Patterson and J. D. Mackerras who were among the pioneer masters of the lodge have been assigned important parts in the ritual. It is expected that others of more recent date but less regular attendance will also take part.

The dinner is announced for 6:30 o'clock. The program is so planned as to expedite the ritual work and avoid the necessity for a late session.

Frances Dewey Receives Many Fine Press Notices

Local interest in things theatrical centers this week in the appearance at Pantages this week of Miss Frances Dewey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dewey of Marlborough Terrace. The Los Angeles papers have made some very flattering comments on the work of Miss Dewey, the Examiner referring to her as "the delightfully different little girl comedienne who is seen as 'The Girl Friend.'" In San Francisco recently the Chronicle said "The other winner in the bill is Dewey and Goldie's Revue. . . and a featured 'fem' (Miss Dewey) who is one of the cutest, peppiest, cleverest little maidens that ever wore a Louise Brooks haircut. This brunette could get by on looks alone, but she is also a bright mimic and a fine dancer."

In Portland Miss Dewey and her partner, Al Gold, topped a fine bill and the Telegram carried a half tone of the duo.

Semester Will Close Fri. June 15

Six Weeks Remain of School Year; Commencement Plans Change

Only six weeks remain of the present school year. Announcement is made by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal, that the present semester will close on Friday, June 15. Then the boys and girls will bid a sad farewell to their books and school rooms with nothing more exciting to look forward to than swimming and picnics, beach outings, mountain hikes, summer motor trips, sunburn and freckles.

Owing to the transfer of the seventh and eighth grades to junior high school commencement season will be uneventful this year. Closing exercises for the elementary grades will be very simple. At junior high school the change in courses due to the 6-4-4 system will postpone graduation a year for the ninth grade pupils who would otherwise have been graduated this spring. The high school graduates will thus have practically a monopoly of the glories of the commencement season.

Trout Season Opens With Big Catches

Fishermen Get Limit Catches in Many Near-by Mountain Streams

All kinds of alluring stories were brought in by the trout fishermen who went out Tuesday morning to celebrate the opening of the season. Nearly everybody reported getting the limit—and several brought home the fish for evidence.

Gordon Brooks, Albert Wheeling and Gordon McMillen drove to Opid's Camp and fished along the West Fork near Valley Forge. All say that the fishing is good there, with no difficulty in catching the allotted number, although the size is not all that might be desired. On the whole their stories show a reasonable degree of agreement.

Victor Hill showed a supreme degree of control and self-denial by remaining on the job as inspector of election in precinct No. 3. The punishment was all the worse by reason of the fact that he spent three days last week at Valley Forge building a cabin for the camp and taking an occasional peep at the trout in the big pools.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Emley drove to Rincon in San Gabriel Canyon and report fishing to be excellent both in the North Fork and the West Fork.

Ben Hosford reports that seven of the guests at Fern Lodge went out early Tuesday morning and every one of them had a limit catch in the Big Santa Anita. Good catches were also reported

Hoover Gets Heavy Vote At Primary

Lack of Contest Fails to Keep Hoover Adherents from the Polls

Smith Has Local Lead But Fails to Get Majority of Democrats

Enthusiasm for Herbert Hoover, as republican candidate for president, brought out a relatively heavy vote at Tuesday's primaries in Sierra Madre. It had been feared that lack of a contest over the delegation to the national convention might serve to keep many republicans away from the polls. Such, however, was not the case, for Hoover received 504 votes. This was more than three times the vote cast for all other parties. Governor Smith of New York was high man in the three-cornered democratic contest. He received 67 votes, but failed to get a majority of the party vote, Reed and Walsh running comparatively close for the remainder of the vote.

The vote of California, as a whole showed a similar result. Republicans of the state registered a splendid vote in support of the "favorite son" candidate. There is evidence of a considerable amount of switching in party registrations this year. Hoover has undoubtedly attracted the support of many democrats who do not relish the apparent certainty of Smith as their party candidate. Likewise, Smith looks good to many republicans who have transferred their party allegiance in order to help assure his nomination.

The vote in Sierra Madre by precincts was as follows:

Precinct	Hoover	Smith	Walsh	Reed	Poling
1	104	8	7	12	2
2	61	7	7	3	1
3	109	12	7	4	4
4	72	12	12	2	—
5	73	10	3	7	5
6	85	18	3	3	—
Totals	504	67	39	31	12

Uncle Remus Will Speak Here Monday

Uncle Remus will be the entertainer and guest of honor at the Eastern Star dinner Monday night when he will give an illustrated talk on "Hawaii." The "trip" is presented through the courtesy of the Los Angeles Steamship Co.

An added attraction will be one of the famous Billy Murphy steak dinners, which will be served at 7 o'clock. The entertainment will immediately follow the dinner, so that those who do not belong to the lodge may attend. Mrs. E. C. Foster, Mrs. W. H. Morrow, Mrs. Madge Har and Mrs. Henderson are in charge of the dinner.

Los Angeles has more of the migrating natives from sixteen of the forty-eight states among its residents than any other city in the country, it is reported. Richard Archer, statistician of population, estimates that 67.5 per cent of the people here were born in other states. The sixteen states represented in Los Angeles by native sons are Arizona, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas and Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. House have removed to Manhattan Beach to make their home. Mr. House will be in charge of the office for a concern which operates fishing barge and launches.

from Hoegee's Camp on the Winter Creek branch of the canyon. Joe Clarke of the Halfway House and E. B. Gray of the Trail Store reported many hikers coming out of the Big Santa Anita with evidence to prove that stream is just as good a fishing ground as any to be found within reasonable distance.

Narrowly Escape Serious Injury In Three-Car Collision

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Miller of Sierra Madre Canyon had a narrow escape from serious injury late Sunday night when their car was caught in a collision at the foot of Sierra Madre Avenue. They were returning to their home and slowed down to make the turn north on Sierra Madre Avenue, another car turning onto the Foothill Boulevard from Sierra Madre Avenue at the same time. A third car traveling west at high speed swerved to the left and struck the Miller car, tearing off the fender and front wheel. Fortunately, nobody was seriously injured, although there were six young people in the car which caused the trouble.

Eugene D. Melcher, formerly transportation consultant of Pasadena, has been appointed assistant to the city manager.

Seeking For Uniform Aid To Veterans

Congressman Crail Promises to Look After Furnishing of Medicines

Inequalities in the furnishing of medicines and medical supplies to veterans of various wars will receive the attention of Congressman Joe Crail as the result of a letter written him by Robert V. Carr of Sierra Madre. Mr. Carr had observed that the government furnished medicine without charge to world war veterans who are in need. His Spanish War comrades and veterans of the Civil War, he found, were not on the same basis, so he took the matter up with the 10th district congressman. Yesterday he received the following letter in reply:

Mr. Robert V. Carr, Sierra Madre, California.

Dear Comrade: I have your letter of recent date in regard to the furnishing of Spanish War veterans with medicine. The Veterans' Bureau has jurisdiction over World War veterans and the Pension Bureau jurisdiction over Civil War and Spanish War veterans. I shall give this matter earnest consideration with a view to finding a way so that the government may furnish medicines and medicine supplies to needy veterans of all wars.

Yours sincerely, Joe Crail.

Governor Is Speaker for Valley Event

Large Delegation Attends Associated Chamber of Commerce Dinner

Sierra Madre sent a full quota to the monthly dinner of the Associated Chambers of Commerce in Baldwin Park Wednesday night. Governor Young was the guest of honor and chief speaker, and made a splendid address. The musical numbers were of unusually high class, also, making a well rounded program.

Sierra Madre's delegation included President J. M. Campbell of the chamber of commerce, and Messrs. T. F. McDonough, R. C. Copenhaver, Woodson F. Jones, A. Russell, Waverly E. Pratt, Ray A. Grant, George Babbitt, Robert Babbitt, S. R. Norris, George Norris, George F. Blakeslee and Walter C. Poehler.

President Campbell has announced the appointment of the following standing committees for the chamber of commerce:

Finance—Walter C. Poehler, Woodson F. Jones and Tom Tyler; membership—Dr. J. L. Woehler, E. A. Anderson, W. E. Pratt; roads—George F. Blakeslee, Henry Isaacs, J. M. Campbell; publicity—W. R. Humphries, George B. Morgridge, O. E. Emley; audit—H. C. Reavis, Louis Dietz; constitution and by-laws—Ray A. Grant, Joe R. Eastwood, R. C. Copenhaver.

County-wide School Plan Wins Favor

All Schools Except Those in Special Charter Cities Are Affected

Facilities for Rural School Children In Need of Improvement

The educational commission of California Taxpayers' association, in session Friday at Los Angeles, considered ways and means of doing away with the little red school house. Representatives of the California Farm Bureau Federation, the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, the California Teachers' Association, the Association of Public School Superintendents of California and the state department of education, met with the commission.

Two attorneys, J. H. O'Connor, deputy county counsel of Los Angeles, and J. H. Powell, former deputy attorney general, have been instructed to draw up a proposed law for the county unit system of school administration.

According to N. Bradford Trenham, secretary of the educational commission, the county unit would make school district boundaries co-terminous with those of the county except in the case of cities which have free-hold charters. Mr. Trenham states that the elected lay board of education would have full power to do all things necessary for the efficient and economical administration of the schools, consistent with laws and the regulations of the state board of education. Powers now vested in city boards of education would simply be extended to and conferred upon county boards of education and would make the superintendent of the county district its executive officer. Upon his recommendation and through him the board would operate the school system of the county, outside the chartered cities, as a unit.

"The county unit," says Mr. Trenham, "has riveted the attention of all who have the best interests of the schools at heart. Good will accrue to the school system through cooperation between educators and business men, farmers, mothers, and professional men."

"For over a year the educational commission of California Taxpayers Association has been carrying on intensive research concerning the county unit."

"California, with 1,795 one-room schools, is in dire need of improving the educational opportunity of the rural children. The county unit will enable the children in the rural regions of California to receive a much better education."

Roy Pickett Sees New Tire Factory

Roy Pickett, proprietor of the Wistaria Service station, spent Tuesday at the new plant of the Goodrich Rubber company in the east side industrial district of Los Angeles. Goodrich agents from all over Southern California were guests of the company in a preview trip through the factory where the processes of tire making were viewed with interest. The day's program included luncheon at the factory.

Twycross Honored By Grand Master

Convers L. Twycross, master of the Masonic lodge, was among those attending the cornerstone ceremonies of the new Monrovia high school Saturday afternoon. The cornerstone was laid by Will H. Fischer, grand master. Mr. Twycross was one of those chosen to officiate as one of the grand lodge officers for the occasion.

Mrs. Mary Hagan is leaving about May 25 for a visit to her old home in Masonville, New York. Mrs. Hagan, who expects to remain in the east all summer, has not been "home" for five years, and is looking forward to a splendid visit with her family.

New lineup Of Faculty Is Ordered

Adoption of the 6-4-4 System Permits Combining of Offices

Doing away with the positions of assistant principal, dean of the junior college, recorder and counselor and effecting other radical changes, the reorganization plan for Pasadena high school and junior college, recommended to the board of education by Supt. John A. Sexson has been unanimously adopted by the board.

Under the new plan, adoption of the high school and junior college under the recently adopted 6-4-4 system, there will be only four major executives of the unit under Principal John W. Harbison. These executives are: director of records and attendance; dean of boys, dean of girls, and director of personnel. The system goes into effect next September.

Assignment of department heads to fill the new positions will not be made until the yearly teachers' assignments are announced next July or August, it was stated by Supt. Sexson.

The plan was adopted, it was said, "in the interests of economy and efficiency." The plan, it is estimated, will lop off $70,000 a year in the expense of administering the combined senior high school and junior college.

Contrary to first published reports, ninth grade pupils will not be graduated from junior high school this spring as in the past. Inasmuch as they will still have junior high school rating in the tenth grade next year, graduation would leave them in an unsatisfactory status so far as student-body activities are concerned.

Olympics to Draw World Champions

Tryouts in Coliseum Will Include Many Holders of Records

With announcement of additional details of the program for the great athletic carnival and entertainment at the Coliseum in Los Angeles on Saturday, June 16, the declaration of its sponsors, the Southern California Olympic Games Committee, that it will be the most spectacular event of its kind ever held in the west, seems certain to be realized.

Since tickets were placed on sale almost 20,000 have been purchased or underwritten, indicating 80,000 seats in the stadium will be filled. Proceeds of the sales are expected to reach $100,000 to be used to send star athletes of the Southwest to the Olympic Games at Amsterdam this summer.

Entertainment on the Coliseum bill, plans for which are in the hands of a committee, will be varied and spectacular. Six round bouts between famous boxers, under direction of George Blake, will be a feature of the program. Track and field contests, in which the best performers of Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico will take part, will bring into competition some world figures. One of these will be the pole vaulting contest between Lee Barnes of U.S.C. and Glenn Graham of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Barnes and Graham tied for first at the Olympic Games at Paris in 1924, Barnes winning in the jump-off.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of Sierra Madre News, published weekly at Sierra Madre, Calif., for April 1, 1928.
State of California,
County of Los Angeles, ss.

Before me, a notary public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared George B. Morgridge, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the managing editor of the Sierra Madre News and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher, Sierra Madre Press Inc., Sierra Madre, Cal.; managing editor, George B. Morgridge; business manager, Joe R. Eastwood, Sierra Madre, Cal.

2. That the names and addresses of the owner or owners, stockholders owning 1 percent or more of capital stock, George B. Morgridge, Joe R. Eastwood.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 percent or more of the total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities are: None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which such stockholders and security holders do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

Garden Section Hears Noted Speakers—

The garden section of the Woman's Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Frank Hart, Sierra Madre Villa. After the business meeting and luncheon on the beautiful grounds the party of about fifty was taken over the estate by Mrs. Hart, Charles Adams and Charles Francis Saunders. The collection of rare trees and shrubs on this place probably cannot be equalled in the United States. Certain blooming trees, including the coral tree, a white blooming and a pink blooming bauhinia elicited vociferous admiration. All in the party were impressed with the wonderful variety, the fine climate making it possible to grow trees from practically all parts of the world.

In the afternoon both Mr. Adams and Mr. Saunders, horticultural experts of broad experience, answered many questions on various flowers and how best to grow them and talked at some length on old Spanish gardens of California.

In attendance were members of a class in horticulture from Pasadena junior high school as guests of Karl Hart, who is a member of the body. Their teacher, Mr. Korner, appeared later and spoke on certain pests, among them the white pine blister rust, which he stated had done much damage in eastern forests and had now invaded Washington and Oregon. He said the means of control was the extermination of its hosts, the native wild currant and the gooseberry.

Earlier in the day, Miss Thomasella Graham showed the section a sample of common yellow dandelion which she said had invaded Sierra Madre during the last year or two and was now threatening the destruction of lawns. It was suggested that a serious and concerted community campaign be begun at once, as by such action the pest could be controlled and eradicated, otherwise in a year control would be extremely difficult owing to its capacity of wind spreading its seeds to great distances. It was learned that an easier way than digging was to take a bottle of sulphuric acid and a medicine dropper and put a drop on each plant well before seeding time.

A suspicion was voiced by some that certain grades of cow-manure now on the market (an ideal rose fertilizer) was responsible for the recent invasion. If this be true, the manure should be soaked for two weeks under water before application, or a pre-heated variety be used.

Miss Thomasella Graham kindly offered her grounds for the June 6 meeting of the section.

Attended Glendale Musical—

Miss Harriett Grant was the guest of Mrs. Fred Griebenow at the Glendale Symphony Concert on Monday evening. The interesting presentation of the second tableau of "Sadko," by Rimsky-Korsakoff was the outstanding feature of the program, it being the first presentation in the United States. The Glendale Woman's Chorus, of which Mrs. Griebenow is a member, augmented the orchestra, and received a great deal of praise for its very professional mastery of a difficult operative chorus part.

Mrs. Lovetta Hicks Pratt and her sister, Miss Ione Hicks, were guests at the home of the ex-mayor of Long Beach, Filmore Condit, and his wife at a social function one day last week. Mrs. Pratt gave a group of readings, and her sister, who has been for three years contra soloist at Grace Methodist Church of Long Beach, sang several selections.

Art Section to Have Charge of Program—

While especial emphasis is being placed on the address by Miss Grace Nicholson, who will appear before the Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon with "gems" from her Treasure House in Pasadena, the luncheon entertainment is equally as fine, according to Miss Harriett Grant, curator of the art section. This section is sponsoring the program for the day.

Mrs. Gilbert Bovard will give readings during the luncheon program, and Mrs. Ray Bellagh, district art chairman, will speak on "Why Every Club Should Have an Art Section."

An added treat on the afternoon program will be the group of Tuscan songs by Mrs. Randolph Wood and Mrs. James N. Hawks, whose beautifully blended voices never fail to please their audiences.

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES

The Visalia Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a week of music in that city, embracing a sacred concert by the combined church choirs; an invitational musical given in a downtown store; a concert by the Visalia band; an all artist night on Wednesday night; presentation of the opera "Martha," and a symphony concert to close the week's program.

Junior baseball in Los Angeles, under the supervision of the American Legion, starts next Saturday. Southern California winners will meet other winners in this district, composing Arizona, Nevada and Southern California, in tournament later in the year and winners of the district tournament will battle for national honors. The national winners will get a free trip to the world series as a prize. 150,000 boys in the United States will participate in the huge program.

Miss Bonnie Abshier, of the '25 class of Inglewood high school, has just signed a five-year contract to sing roles in light opera to be produced in New York by Hammerstein.

State Motor Officer Thornton Edwards of Santa Paula has been awarded the state award for conspicuous bravery for his heroic work in warning residents in the path of the St. Francis flood. He raced his motorcycle ahead of the flood, warning the residents of the community at great risk to his own life.

Santa Barbara will purchase for city park purposes seven acres of ground in front of the Santa Barbara Mission. The padres have offered the land to the city for $75,000, and the sum realized will be used to liquidate the indebtedness remaining from the reconstruction of the mission following the Santa Barbara earthquake.

High school students in Pasadena will be able to go to more evening parties next year. Under the new 6-4-4 system, enough study periods will be provided so that all studying can be done in school hours, it is asserted. Students will not be "flunked" at the end of the term without notification of parents several weeks in advance.

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

Much to the delight of the pursuers of the elusive trout on the opening day of the fishing season in the Big Santa Anita Canyon at the head of Sturtevant Trail, nearly all of the anglers returned with a limit catch. E. B. Gray, proprietor of the Trail Store and one of the Big Santa Anita old timers, stated that approximately a hundred people had taken advantage of the sport. Mr. Gray said further that the Big Santa Anita had proven one of the best fishing spots in Southern California.

Robert Gray celebrated his fifteenth birthday anniversary by taking twenty-one good sized trout from the Big Santa Anita on Tuesday. He was accompanied by Clyde Hoover, George Smith and Claude Rust. Claude was top score with twenty-five members of the finny tribe in his basket as evidence of his prowess. The boys fished from Roberts Camp as far down as the dam.

On Monday night a farewell party was tendered Mrs. Nettie J. Forrest who expects to leave soon for Pennsylvania, by Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Griswold in the grounds of their charming canyon home. Among the guests were Miss Minerva Boatright and Mrs. Rebecca Romaine Hill. Seated around the large open fireplace amidst a bower of ferns with colored lanterns overhead the time was enjoyably spent in relating stories of travel and in listening to negro dialect recitations by Mrs. Hill, after which the evening ended pleasantly in popping corn in the old-fashioned way.

Robert Kinsman, well known pipe organ teacher of Pasadena, has recently purchased a lot on Marlborough Terrace where he intends soon to build a home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Munger have returned to the canyon for a month's stay in their cottage, "Suits Us." On Saturday at noon Mr. and Mrs. Munger celebrated the anniversary of their golden wedding at a party sponsored at the Breakers Hotel by the Iowa State Society of Long Beach. Forty-three couples gathered about a 90-foot banquet table set in the Hall of the Galleons at the hotel as honored guests of the Iowa society. The couples formed an inspiring procession as they marched into the banquet hall to the familiar strains of the Lohengrin wedding march and took their places at the long table reserved for them.

President Wm. M. Peek of the Iowa State society was host and presided during the luncheon and program which followed the golden nuptial dinner in honor of the brides and bridegrooms. The invocation was sponsored by the Rev. John A. M. Ziegler, a former Iowan, and the old favorite solo, "O Promise Me," was sung by Frank Hart with Mrs. Meservey at the piano. The re-enactment of a wedding scene followed at which Rev. Chas. F. Ensign of Emmanuel Presbyterian Church of Long Beach and formerly of Farley, Iowa, officiated. The assembled guests then sang "The Church in the Wildwood," composed around the "little brown church" at Nashua, Iowa. After the wedding the entire party adjourned to the lawn of the Breakers Hotel for a golden wedding picture taken by both motion picture camera and panoramic camera in order to include the forty-three couples.

Miss Frances Dewey of New York City spent Sunday and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Dewey at their home on Marlborough Terrace. Miss Dewey is headlining at Pantheatre in Los Angeles this week. She will leave for San Diego on Sunday accompanied by her mother, who will remain with her during her stay there.

Miss Mary Nicholson of Alhambra was the guest of her brother Albert Nicholson at Audubon Park over the week end. Miss Nicholson was a canyon resident for several months during the winter.

Mrs. Nettie J. Forrest had as her guests for the day on Thursday, Mrs. Nellie Baldwin and son Thearle of Los Angeles and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hague also of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Clements of Long Beach are occupying Mrs. Laura M. Cline's cottage, Vista del Val, for a month.

Miss Inez F. Brown of Venice was a guest of Miss Laura E. Cadmus at Cadmus Villa on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson of Long Beach were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Anderson on Sunday.

Mrs. Archie McKaig of Los Angeles was a visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. Wm. J. Stevenson from Thursday until Saturday.

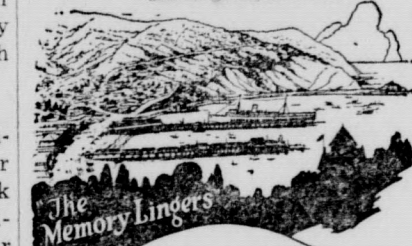

Wm. Edward Stevenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stevenson, has been spending the last two weeks at home recuperating from poisoning of the stomach.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Steven Peterson entertained with a dinner served on the terrace under the trees at their home on Sturtevant and Woodland Drives. The guests were Mr. Peterson's sister, Mrs. Geo. Kostecky, Mr. Kostecky and daughter Viola, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ludiger and Rowland Forbes of Hollywood.

The senate agricultural committee has reported favorably the bill of Senator Shortridge withdrawing from entry under the mineral laws more than 400,000 acres of land in the Angeles Reserve in Los Angeles county. The purpose is to sweep aside mining entries which have not been utilized commercially and which, it is asserted, interfere with conservation and reforestation.

DO IT RIGHT

LIBERAL response ought to meet the appeal for funds for putting the Sierra Madre cemetery in presentable shape. Community pride ought to be on guard against allowing an unkempt condition in this resting place of those who have passed on.

Unfortunately, the policy of operating the local burying ground was established before the perpetual care system became the usual thing. Lots were sold at prices which made no provision for upkeep. Owners of many lots have moved away and addresses are unknown. The cemetery association has only a small number of lots remaining in the tract and no funds out of previous sales to provide for care of lots. So far no one has devised a practicable method of bringing all interested parties into a scheme for financing a perpetual care system.

The only workable plan seems to be for each lot owner within reach to see that his own lot is made presentable. The least that can be done is to clear the ground of weeds and dead grass. The planting of shrubs or other greenery helps appearances wonderfully. Then, if all lot owners who can do so will make a contribution to the cemetery fund of the American Legion it will help that body to carry out the responsibility it has so creditably assumed of cleaning up the rest of the tract. And here is where other citizens have their chance. Whether directly interested or not, every resident of Sierra Madre ought to have enough civic pride to prefer a well kept cemetery. To leave it otherwise on the side of the main east and west thoroughfare is a disgrace. Why not send in your contribution while it is on your mind?

DUKE'S DUCATS

THE Men's Community Club recently heard Dr. VonKleinSmid refer to the gift of something like $85,000,000 to Trinity College, which was later named Duke University, the gift being the bulk of the fortune of James B. Duke, tobacco king. But it was not tobacco, primarily, that built up that fortune. It was advertising.

Washington Duke was the founder of the tobacco business in which his son, James B. Duke, was a partner. Business was none too good, and the father tells what happened:

"My son came back from a business trip to New York saying he had pledged our credit for $750,000 to be spent in advertising during twelve months. Our entire assets did not amount to that much. I told Buck so. He merely smiles. For three nights I did not close my eyes in slumber, worrying over what I regarded as certain ruin. Buck slept peacefully. But when the advertising began, orders came so fast we had to increase production. At the end of the twelve months every cent of the advertising was paid for and our assets were several millions."

VEXATIOUS TAXATION DELAYS

BELIEF that some taxes are unjust and unnecessary, and not only this, but harmful, is not uncommon, says the Glendale News-Press: To the vexation of having to yield tribute not essential to public welfare, often there is the added vexation of delay in settlement of controversies.

When a tax is exacted either the operation is legal or it is not. To decide the status of a particular case often takes the courts a term of years. All this is costly to the citizen, an interference with his business, and he has but scant patience with it.

It is singular that a system of taxation has not been devised that would afford less ground for litigation. If the system in vogue were manifestly fair and useful, there could be no excuse for suits to combat it, or if such suits were brought, they could be decided quickly.

In California the inheritance tax is the greatest cause of annoyance, but in an unpopularity contest the tax on intangibles is a close second. In respect of the first tax the federal government is as bad as the state. For example, the Wanamaker estate is tied up while federal authorities are seeking to collect taxes on gifts made eight years ago, classing such gifts as a part of the estate. California wants to collect tax on $10,000,000 alleged to have been given to relatives of the late Adolph B. Spreckles before his death. This, of course, means that the estate cannot be settled for many years.

There are 693,928 cases pending in the income tax department. In December there were 19,612 on the docket of the board of tax appeals, 300 of these dating back to 1917. The prospect of a clearance is incalculably remote. Yet people are ready to pay a proper tax, and not at all inclined to go to law about it.

CENTENARY OF PRINTING

THE hundredth anniversary of the establishing of the art of printing in California will take place in 1933," remarks the Puente Journal. "In the year 1883, Jose Figueroa came from Mexico to Monterey, bringing a small hand-press and a quantity of type. The first piece of printing was Figueroa's official address on assuming the governorship of California. The occasion should be made a monumental one by the printers of California."

"There is an opportunity to hold a celebration or to mark the event in some way that will make a lasting impression on the public, to the advancing of printing and its traditions in the public mind."

"The growth and increase of printing in California in a single century seems almost unbelievable. It is like romance. It would provide a background for a wonderful pageant, historical and educative."

In this connection printing should receive full credit for the part it has played in the growth and development of California. How could California have gained the world-wide fame which has brought its vast increase in population without the use of printer's ink? How could capital have been interested in California enterprise except by the use of printing? Here is a shining demonstration of the axiom that "printing is the inseparable companion of achievement."

PERSONALITY

(Inland Printer)

AS a result of extensive investigation, M. F. Hollister, a business engineer of San Francisco, lecturing in the Northwest, has discovered that personality is the strongest force in retail selling today.

He attributes to defective personality in the salesman 53 per cent of all the sales lost in retail stores, and has pointed out that "personality is an intangible though all-important element in business to which many business men give little attention."

"One of the most serious leakages in merchandising is discovered in the fact that after spending tremendous amounts of money for advertising in order to bring customers to the store, business houses fail to sell their goods simply because the clerks do not have sufficient personality to interest the customer."

Can this be true of your salesmen, or, frankly, of your own personality, so far as selling is concerned?

Mr. Hollister further emphasized that wrapped up in every person of the establishment is the reputation of the business.

An Arkansas editor suggests: One friendly competitor is worth ten friendly customers. Business men who are in the habit of exchanging brickbats with their fellow merchants can find a lot of food for thought there.

Reservations

By J. R. E.

The writer thanks a number of friends for words of approbation concerning our little dissertation on the need of a junior high school in Sierra Madre. Unfortunately it is usually when an article is unfavorably received that a writer hears of the impression it has created. Hence, an added feeling of gratitude to the friends who have said such nice things to us.

Lela Joy's parents were confronted with a real problem a few days ago when in some unaccountable way the 22-months-old cherub picked up the word, "Can't."

No matter what was asked of her she was sure to say, in the most plaintive voice imaginable: "Can't!"

If we asked her to stop saying it she would reply, "Can't!" If we asked her to keep right on saying it, she would reply: "Ca-a-ant!"

Of course the logical thing was to teach her to think and say, "I can," or "I'll try!" And it seems to be working nicely.

A community may be likened to a growing child. It doesn't witness the bursting into full bloom of a perfect government, adequate schools or the last word in churches and social organizations. Most of the joy of living would be taken away if we couldn't see our children develop—a little every day. Teeth and hair and stature and everything about them changes. Its that way with a community. As needs develop, so the needs must be met—and the people who are really interested in the community will take a just pride in such development. The comparatively few earnest church members who build a magnificent church are helping to realize an ideal. And they seldom fail to reap adequate return in satisfaction and contentment for their efforts.

Sierra Madre schools may have reached their ultimate development so far as a few of our residents are concerned; but there is a majority, it is to be hoped, who have as their ideal a school system adequate to the location and beauty of our matchless little city. Their slogan is "Can," not "Can't."

After reading what terrors would fly through the night (airplanes) in case of another war, and then witnessing the efficacy of air raids in Nicaragua, one need lose little sleep in contemplation of the rigors of the next war.

Mary Miles Minter and Joe Diskay are going to hear the fatal words together, it is said. Joe has a large repertoire but we'll bet he'll have to learn a few new tunes to keep peace with Mary.

Who Remembers

When cornsilk and dockseed made a good (?) substitute for smoking tobacco?

To paraphrase Omas: "What do the bootleggers buy one-half so rotten as the stuff they sell?"

The mob dearly loves a winner. When the Angels were in the cellar nobody turned out to see them play. Now that they are winning the attendance is steadily increasing.

As a loser, Sharkey was a bum. Now that he has won a fight he is hailed by some frenzied scribes as a "miracle man."

Sinclair so notorious as a defendant that they would even let his horses associate with other horses, is now one of the socially elect, again.

Paddock declines to fulfill his implied contract to race against Borah. Charley is wise. He is getting no younger fast, and Borah is getting better and better. One defeat and Sir Charles will join the has-beens.

A lady (?) writer on etiquette gives a public testimonial for a certain cigarette. We're still so old-fashioned that we think that while a lady may smoke, no lady will boast about it.

An insistent demand for a half holiday—Wednesday preferred—during the summer is gaining ground rapidly.

A half holiday, with games for the kids and a siesta for the dads,—with a barbecue at 6 and a program at 7 would do much to liven up the city during the summer months.

Observations

(By G. B. M.)

WATCH OUR DUST—

Dust killed off the Dinosaurs that used to be numerous on this continent, according to a new scientific theory. About a year ago residents of Live Oak Avenue petitioned the city council for the improvement of their street so the dust nuisance would be abated. The petition was shelved and is now doubtless accumulating dust in the city archives. If the archives were down on Live Oak Avenue the dust would be even thicker. For the dust nuisance is worse than ever. And now it appears we can't raise Dinosaurs down there unless we keep them in a dust proof case. It's all wrong!

SCHOOLS AND SCHOOLS—

Right over on the other side of that left-hand column rule my esteemed associate is agitating for a junior high school in Sierra Madre. Success to him.

But right here I want to lay down some specifications. He may be satisfied to send that bright youngster of his to a six-teacher junior high school such as he describes. It doesn't look good to me. There may be some folks moving away because we do not have a junior high school inside our city limits. But I can't imagine anything that would make me want to move quicker than to have to send my youngsters to a six-teacher junior high school instead of the kind of school we now have available down at Woodrow Wilson Junior high.

Sure, I know you can have a junior high school with six teachers. In fact I once attended a senior high school which had a faculty of three, one of them part time. But I am not very proud of the education I acquired there. And that is just the reason I believe in having the right kind of a school for the youngsters now growing up, regardless of location.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

Another week has passed, and the fireboys have had their last drill for the month of April. This drill was a run to the corner of Mountain Trail and Central Avenues to learn if the pumps were in working order and to keep in touch with the details of "hooking up" to the fire plugs. It was found that some of the fittings on the pumps leaked to a considerable extent, and that the four-way connection was somewhat out of order. The repairing of these defects was immediately taken care of by the proper members.

During the practice our principal plug man failed to get his large feet away from under the big suction hose (as it was removed from the engine), resulting in two large wet feet. Mr. Schwartz, as a rule, is very capable of preventing this particular incident, but even great minds sometimes fail to function. The rest of the boys enjoyed his plight to the nth degree; in fact he received the "horse laugh."

Other than this the drill was carried on in the usual manner.

Gordon Brooks, a new member, was initiated by getting his feet wet while returning the hose to the truck, causing another haw, haw! He kept inquiring why we wear the rubber coats. I think he now understands.

Engineers Steinberger and Peterson held down the pumping assignment and passed out instructions in the meantime. Something should be done about that engine. The way it struggles up a hill is not far from disgraceful. It has been in this condition now for some time.

We held a rousing good meeting with nineteen of the twenty members present, Roy Walsworth evidently being detained at home, reading up on "How to Dance." I understand that he is taking a correspondence course on this subject. Mr. Myers, one of the newly elected councilmen, honored us with a visit and we hope that we left with him a good impression. 'Twas very hard to control the actions of some of our notables and to have them realize the presence of an official. After all, I think Mr. Myers is human and can understand human beings. I would like to relate that although our meetings are carried on in a business-like manner, we never need feel timid or nervous to state or suggest anything regarding the Fire Department. It is one organization where true harmony prevails, and here's hoping that there will never anything happen to daunt this spirit. We may all have a different opinion, but I am sure that there is not ill-feeling among us. The boys are all in the department, principally for community betterment and for the sociability acquired from their meetings. We are compensated to the extent of one dollar per practice and one dollar per fire call. This will surely prove that we are not in it for financial gain. This amount would not pay for the time required for these practices and as for the amount received for a fire, why that hardly pays for the wear and tear on a fellow's automobile, notwithstanding he may go to the fire in his "Sunday-go-to-meet-in" shoes and clothes.

For instance, at the last fire, I wore a pair of trousers that cost me $13 and after they got soaked at the fire and returned from the cleaners they are so tight that they are not worth thirteen cents to me now.

We like to keep a fireman's relief fund on hand and to do this we have been leaving half our regular practice money in the fund. This would eventually grow into a considerable amount were it not for sickness, etc., among our members. We occasionally spend a large amount for coats or other equipment for the city's fire fighting apparatus. Why should we be buying equipment for the fire trucks? I object to this. We don't get these small checks of one dollar for nothing. At least I consider my time worth something and I feel sure that the councilmen and the citizens, too, would not expect us to spend our money in this manner. Let us go before the council when we are in need of such as this and either keep our fund for relief work or else collect it for personal use. We are not costing the city an exorbitant amount for fire protection. (I may be boasting to say that the fire department is efficient, but I think it is.) Was the city to retain even one salaried man he would be paid at least $150 per month and apartment and there would still have to be a large number of call men. With the figures disclosed in a former paragraph anyone can figure that Sierra Madre is receiving fire protection at a reasonable cost. Of course the writer is only talking from his own point of view and may have the disapproval of brother members for these assertions, but I emphatically declare that there are objections to spending from our fund to pay for equipment for the city fire apparatus. Well, that's enough of that for this time.

I wonder how many of the "brave boys" have been fishing this week? Vern Udell and "Babbitt" took a trip away off to some distant creek and between them caught four trout. Putting the four together they measured sixteen inches. Neither of them had a pipe wrench, so they had some difficulty in twisting the fish tails. They both hope for better connections next time. Had they stayed nearer home, they might have done better. A great many fishermen and boys are pulling out the limit right up in the big Santa Anita canyon.

Assistant Chief George Norris reports progress in the recreation grounds and baseball diamond. He says they have located a level spot, but not large enough for swatters of the Babe Ruth type.

Don't worry about that, George. As far as a Firemen's team is concerned, if they ever DO hit a ball, it will be lightly.

Chief Richards 500 tournament is arranged and will be started before this goes to press.

All the Terpsichorean artists of the department are resting in advance for the "Bunion Derby" to be held at the Masonic Temple on Friday night. Most of the old boys are considerably out of practice and the golf links may suffer the absence of one or two faithful Sunday morning patrons, due to sore corns and what have you.

The Jack Wilkerson family surely set us up a nice "feed" last Friday evening. Included were sandwiches, coffee, cherry pie and ice cream. Being in the feed and fuel game, Jack figured a "feed" should also be fuel. Louie Karger furnished the bird seed.

This will conclude the performance for this evening; put down the asbestos curtain — The Fire's Out!

PAINTED WALLS

—the perfect background

Figured and patterned walls do grow tiresome, especially in smaller rooms; and they often "steal" some of the beauty and richness of furniture and hangings.

Walls painted with FULLERGLO are restful, unobtrusive. The delicate tints of this satiny finish form an ideal background for furnishings, bringing out all their color, charm and beauty.

Such a room is always fresh, for FULLERGLO is washable. It is so easy to apply that you can do the smaller jobs yourself—especially the refinishing of furniture. For more important jobs, however, such as painting rooms now papered, it is better to employ a Master Painter.

A descriptive card, with color samples, is yours for the asking. See your Fuller Dealer listed below.

When Chess Was Put Under Churchly Ban

As to how chess was introduced into western and central Europe little is really known, and still less about its advent into this country. Some say that chess was brought into Europe at the time of the Crusades, the theory being that Christian warriors learned to play it at Constantinople, but this has been disproved.

More probable it is that the Spaniards received the game from their Moslem conquerors, who had learned it from the Persians, who in their turn had been initiated into it by the Hindus, while the Italians acquired chess from the Byzantines.

It seems that chess was known in Italy before the first Crusade, for there is extant, says Colonel Whitton, in the Nineteenth Century, a curious letter from the cardinal archbishop of Ostia to Pope Alexander II, written about 1061, bearing on the game.

The cardinal had imposed a penance on a bishop whom he had found diverting himself with chess, and in his letter to the pope the cardinal quotes the language of the proof he had used to his erring subordinate: "Was it right, I say, and consistent with thy duties, to sport away thy evenings amidst the vanities of chess and defile the hand which offers up the body of the Lord, and the tongue which mediates between God and man, with the pollution of this sacrilegious game?"

Travel Always With Death as Companion

Bolivia is probably the most inaccessible country in the world. It can only be reached by crossing the Andes or by taking a long and difficult journey through the Argentine. Thus, although it is four times as large as Great Britain, its population is only one-quarter that of London.

It lies wholly in the tropical belt, but much of its surface consists of a lofty tableland running up to 13,000 feet, where the climate is intensely dry and cold, with considerable snow and fearful electric storms.

A track crosses this great plateau to the western seaboard, and along this trail travels a constant stream of mules and donkeys carrying rubber and other products of Bolivia to the coast. In many places the track is a mere shelf of rock with nothing between its edge and a drop of thousands of feet. In places the track rises 15,000 feet above sea level. The whole trail is lined with the bleached skeletons of pack animals, and the losses are enormous.

On this plateau, at a height of 13,000 feet, is the vast Lake Titicaca, almost as big as Lake Erie in Canada.

United States "Christian"

In the case of the Church of the Holy Trinity versus the United States, argued in the Supreme court, January 7, 1892, the decision was handed down by Justice Brewer, a part of which reads as follows: Justice Brewer stated that in his opinion the fact that "the form of oath, the custom of opening the national and state assemblies with prayer, the laws of Sabbath observance, with the closing of courts, legislatures and similar public assemblies on this day, the number of churches, missionaries, philanthropists, these, and many other matters which might be noticed, add a volume of unofficial declarations to the mass of organic utterances that this is a Christian nation."

Longest Bridges

In estimating which is the longest bridge in the world, the length of the main span is usually considered, without the approaches. The Quebec cantilever bridge over the St. Lawrence, 1,800 feet main span, is the longest. The new Delaware river bridge between Philadelphia and Camden, 1,750-foot span, is the longest suspension bridge in the world. If approaches are considered, the Key West extension of the Florida East Coast railroad, a 30-mile viaduct, is perhaps the longest. The Lucin cut-off across the Great Salt lake is 20 miles long. The Cerno Voda bridge over the Danube at Constanza is 12 miles long.

Not Original Draft

The fate of the original draft of the Declaration of Independence is not known. It probably went to the printer on the day after the declaration was adopted. The engrossed copy which was ultimately signed by the members of the Continental congress was formerly in the archives of the State department, but is now preserved in the Library of Congress. There, protected against handling and injurious light, it is now constantly on public view.

Vanity of Pakenham Brought His Defeat

The American forces under Andrew Jackson at New Orleans in January, 1815, inflicted severe losses on the British troops because General Pakenham, the British commander, insisted upon carrying out a set method of attack which did not prove successful against the Americans, points out Clifford Raymond in an article in Liberty.

"It was British tradition," continues the author, "that troops could take a position in frontal attack, carrying material for filling ditches and ladders for scaling walls. It was also in the history of British regiments in America that they had not done it on many occasions; but Pakenham, with his reputation to maintain, was convinced that he had to do it even with Andrew Jackson animating the troops behind the breastworks."

"Pakenham died rallying the men," explains Raymond, "when they withered under the rifle and artillery fire. Before that fire, in 25 minutes the storm troops of Great Britain disappeared. There were 700 killed, 1,400 wounded, and 500 taken prisoners. The American loss was 8 killed and 13 wounded."

Peking Child Beggars Bane of Foreigners

Even Cairo and Naples cannot compare with Peking in the number and persistence of the professional beggars who swarm upon the streets and annoy strangers with their supplications. In Peking the casual tourist will do well to buy a "small time" copper before he goes out—that means twenty-eight coppers—and to distribute a copper here and a copper there. It purchases immunity from annoyance.

The permanent resident obtains immunity only by being as "hard-hearted" as the Chinese themselves—and never giving. If one lives in Peking for a time and maintains a "ricksha boy and several servants, one's doorway will not be bothered, for the magical words "ta boo gay"—"He nothing gives"—spread rapidly. Recently the doorways of swarms of ragged little girls of eight or ten years, each carrying a tiny, wailing, naked infant, supposedly their starving little sisters. As a matter of fact, these little beggar girls are all hired, as are also the infants, by fat, sleek men who control this beggar ring and prey upon ignorant foreigners.

EATING TO GAIN

The best foods from the markets can do little toward fattening a body depleted by diseased tonsils, defective teeth, infected sinus, weak abdominal walls or the abnormal functioning of the glands of internal secretions. A high strung, nervous tension often accompanies underweight. Calmness and cheerfulness are characteristic of "comfortable" flesh.

A competent physician can determine whether disease, unwholesome health habits, or lack of food are the cause of underweight. If defects or diseases are the underlying cause, remedial measures under proper supervision should be taken at once. If these are not at fault, more food and more rest are needed.

Enough food must be taken to cover all the activity needs of the body, plus a generous amount to lay by in storage. If all the needed food cannot be comfortably handled in three meals a day, smaller meals four or five times a day are advisable. Milk and crackers, egg milk drinks or hot milk drinks between meals or at bedtime are excellent.

Fats, sugar and starches must be consumed for the daily activities and also to provide a liberal excess of fuel to store as fat. Very rich pastries and sweets are not advisable because they may produce digestive disturbances. Whole milk and other building foods such as meats, eggs, fish and cheese must be added. Creamed soups, sauces and salad dressings are good if not too indigestibly used to tax the digestive organs. Fresh fruits and vegetables must be included for their vitamins and minerals which are a stimulant to a better appetite as well as a better nutrition. All eating should be done with regularity and unhurriedness.

Rest is a close factor to food in gaining weight. The body must lessen its activity to insure a generous part of the food growing into muscle and fat reserve. "Running on nerves" must be avoided in order to increase flesh and attain good nerve tone. Outdoor fresh air and sunshine are good tonics.

Jefferson Found His Letter Writing a Burden

Thomas Jefferson liked to write letters and to receive them, but the burden became almost unendurable. He wrote John Adams in 1817 that from dinner to dark he was "drudging at the writing table."

"All this," he continued, "to answer letters into which neither interest nor inclination on my part enters; and often from persons whose names I have never before heard. Yet, writing civilly, it is hard to refuse them civil answers. This is the burden of my life, a very grievous one indeed, and one which I must get rid of."

He consented to write a few lines of introduction to one of Delaplaine's books that he might make there a public appeal for relief from this burden, but it does not appear to have been successful, for he wrote Adams in 1822 that he had received 1,267 letters that previous year and had answered all, though many of them had required long replies and some extensive investigation.

"Is this life?" he asked. "At best it is but the life of a mill horse that sees no end to his circle but in death. To such a life that of a cabbage is paradise." Since he had earlier described the life of a cabbage as "surely not worth a wish," he had evidently come close to the irreducible minimum in enjoyment of existence. At the time of his death he had 26,000 letters filed and had copies of 16,000 replies.—J. G. de Roubae Hamilton, in Century Magazine.

Even Fine Violins Must Have Exercise

A violin, like a growing boy, according to the experts, is much better when kept busy. And dance tunes are just as good for "exercising" even a priceless Stradivarius as are the highest class concert numbers. A violin, bearing the date 1713 and believed to be a genuine "Strad," has been in the possession of the family of William McDonald of Rice Lake, Mich., says the Milwaukee Journal, for 175 years. Mr. McDonald, who owned the instrument for 53 years, has used it in the old fiddlers' contests throughout this part of the state.

Inside the violin is this inscription:

"Antonio Stradivari Cremonensis. Faciebat Anno 1713" (Cremona of Antonio Stradivari, made in the year 1713. The famous Cremona carver was at the height of his career as a violin maker in 1713, and all the evidence to be found in the family records leads the McDonalds to believe the instrument is an original of the noted maker.

Perhaps Not

Maecenas, one of the most brilliant Englishmen of his century, couldn't commit the multiplication table to memory. Mathematics proved too much for him. It is said Emerson was never quite certain about nine times seven. This supposed deficiency in mathematics on the part of men who are brilliant in other lines does not always really exist. Some men and women think they are unable to understand mathematics when the truth is they were badly taught. They may have the same capacity that others have, but they have approached the subject in the wrong way.

Many people have more intellectual capacity than they suspect. What they are afflicted with is not dumbness but mental indolence.—Grove Patterson, in the Mobile Register.

Behanding Ax Unused

Visitors to the British home office in Whitehall, London, still see a relic of the Cato street conspiracy in 1820 in a behanding ax which is kept in a glass case. The ax has never behanded anyone, but it was made to behand the conspirators. The five persons convicted were sentenced to be behanded in the ordinary way but the authorities decided to hang them first and not take any chances. The behanding was done in public immediately afterward on the scaffold. It was performed with a surgeon's amputating knife by a masked "resurrection man" who was paid 20 guineas for his services.

Enemies of Cockroach

In Europe a parasitic four-winged fly often lays its eggs in the capsules of the cockroach. This fly has become widely distributed over the world, following the roach. Unfortunately, its usefulness as a means of keeping the roach in check by destroying the egg capsules is greatly impaired by the occurrence of another four-winged fly which is parasitic upon the first. Among other natural enemies of the roach are tree frogs, and it has been stated that if these animals are inclosed in a room overnight they will entirely clear it of roaches.

Diplomatic Privileges

Not many people know that diplomats, even though civilians, wear a distinctive uniform for formal occasions. The more gold on sleeve and collar the higher the rank. All wear dress swords. Their order of precedence is not governed, as many people think, by size or importance of the country. It hinges on length of service at a particular post. In other words, the man who has longest represented his country as ambassador at Washington comes first. He is called the dean of the diplomatic corps.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Such Language!

From a merchant's notice to the public in Lungfussu, an open-air market in Peking:

"Notice!! My dear customers! Please do not bring your ricksha boys with you when you come to Lungfussu to buy goods, because they want commission from us as they go. If we do not give them they will puzzle you by some bad words, as 'Too dear,' or 'Not good.'"

Hidden Threat

It is said that a plate over the door in Egypt indicates that a marriageable girl lives within the house. Over here a fellow gets caught without warning.—Charlotte Observer.

Products

In an English school the examiner asked one of the children to name the products of the Indian empire. The child was well prepared, but very nervous.

"Please, sir," the answer ran, "India produces curries and pepper and rice and citron and chutney and—"

There was a long pause. Then, as the first child remained silent, a little girl raised her hand. The examiner nodded.

"Yes, you may name any other products of India."

"Please, sir," the child announced, proudly, "Indigestion."—The Furrow.

A Hammerstein Joke

It was at a dinner party in London before the war. Lady Cunard was seated between Mr. Asquith, then British prime minister, and Sir Thomas Beecham, the musician, who derives his wealth from a famous pill. Opposite this trio sat Oscar Hammerstein, then trying to conquer London with his grand opera. During the dinner Oscar got out his pencil, scribbled something on the back of a menu card, and passed it over to Lady Cunard. This is what she read:

"I see you are seated between the prime minister and the prime administrator."

Electives at Junior High Discussed

Parent-Teachers Association Hold An Interesting Session

Junior high school elective courses furnished the theme of a highly interesting meeting of the Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher Association last Thursday night. The session was held in the evening so fathers as well as mothers could attend and gain a better understanding of the great variety of courses offered. Mrs. Archbold, president, placed the program in the hands of Arthur M. Brown, principal.

In addition to the required subjects, which are the tools of education and essential to all, the junior high school offers many courses with which the student is able to experiment and seek to discover personal tastes and aptitudes in pursuing further school and vocational courses. Mr. Brown called upon various instructors to discuss the content and objectives of their departments.

Those speaking were Mr. Paul, mechanical drawing and printing; Mr. Booth, woodworking, electricity and sheet metal work; Miss Lee, art; Miss Hunt, vocal music; Mr. Gundry, orchestra; Miss Oliver, home economics, cooking and sewing; Miss Wilson, Latin and Spanish; Miss Caldwell, public speaking and dramatics; Miss Tarr, typing and stenography; Mr. Woolnough, commercial training; Mr. Stickle, history.

Miss Scott, school counselor, told how every effort is made to guide the pupil into the right courses and ensure proper adjustment. Mrs. Magnuson, assistant principal, closed the discussion with a beautifully written paper on the general purpose and ideals of junior high school training.

The girls' glee club contributed much to the enjoyment of the evening with two selections. They sang without accompaniment under the direction of Miss Scott.

Local Artists Present Fine Program

Community pride and artistic enjoyment mingled in the emotions of the audience which filled the Woman's Club House Thursday night to hear Donald Thayer, baritone, and Oscar Rasbach, pianist-composer. The performance of both men was so thoroughly enjoyable and on so high a level that the audience could not fail to realize the worth of such artists to the community.

The feeling was well expressed by Mrs. Fletcher H. White, president of the Woman's Club, who presented the artists. She thanked them on behalf of the club and the public for their generosity in giving their services. Mr. Thayer in compliment to his mother, Mrs. W. F. Thayer, Sr., and Mr. Rasbach in compliment to his wife.

The program afforded ample opportunity to show the range and quality of Mr. Thayer's splendid voice. Added to the rich tones and sympathetic renditions, there was the pleasure of perfect diction which is too often lacking in Americans trying to sing in their native tongue.

Mr. Rasbach was never heard to better advantage. His own compositions were accorded an ovation, especially when Mr. Thayer sang Mr. Rasbach's songs, in which singer and composer performed in perfect sympathy.

Local and Personal

Birthday Party for Young "Bar Mitzvo"

Complimenting their son, Moe Rosen, Mr. and Mrs. Rosen presided over a jolly birthday party Sunday evening, April 29. The affair was not only an anniversary celebration, but marked the conference of the "Bar Mitzvo" upon the honoree.

Seventy-five guests assembled to honor the youth, who was presented with a beautifully bound book by A. Platt, president of the Hebrew Community Center. Another fine gift was the Old Testament in Hebrew and English, given by Mr. Rothman.

During the evening the guests danced, and at a late hour a delicious supper was served. While the guests were still seated at the supper table a telegram of congratulations was received from Moe's grandparents in Providence, Rhode Island.

Birthday Party for Mercedes Schiltz

Twenty-four young misses were guests at a delightfully arranged birthday party Wednesday, when they assembled at the invitation of Mrs. W. J. Schiltz to celebrate the anniversary of Miss Mercedes Schiltz. After several hours of games, the small guests were seated at the dainty birthday table, where a two-course luncheon was served.

Pastel crepe paper, flowers in delicate shades, and a large pink and white birthday cake added to the attractiveness of the table, where places were marked for the following guests: Charlotte Butler, Helen Rarig, Bab Bains, Gertrude Manhart, Clara Zeller, Marjorie Bergein, Evelyn Bergein, Barbara Carney, Leona Carney, Alice Carter, Marion Marcotte, Bernice Delvecci, Mary Dorothy Lorenzen, Rose Mary Ranahan, Gertrude Higgins, Agnes McClellan, Edith Morago and Frances Mueller.

Little Miss Schiltz received a number of beautiful gifts from her friends.

Card Party Is Fine Event

More than usual enthusiasm was displayed at the card party given Tuesday night at St. Rita's Auditorium, and the prizes met with more than the usual favor, according to expressions of pleasure heard at the event.

The following prizes were awarded: Bridge, Dr. Harold Elk, W. R. Lees, Mark D. Welscher, Mrs. Carney, Lee Garrett, Mrs. Harry Long, Mrs. Phillip Senour, E. H. Keegan, Mrs. W. J. Schiltz, Mrs. M. D. Welscher, W. E. Burns.

Five Hundred: Paul B. Troth, Mrs. Bogardus, W. E. Craig, Mrs. Fred Givens, Mrs. Val Miller, Mr. Delvecci, Howard Tuerck, Mrs. W. E. Craig, Mrs. Delvecci, Mrs. Wm. Goff, Mr. Bogardus, Mrs. D. T. Tracy L. F. Bartel and Mrs. Penders.

Entertain Guests at Informal Dinner

Complimenting her friends, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lloyd and their son, who are her house guests, Mrs. Marvin Coats will entertain with an informal dinner party Saturday evening. Other guests will be the Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Moore.

Priscilla Club to Meet Thursday

Mrs. Fred Griebelow will entertain the Modern Priscillas at her home next Thursday afternoon.

Miss Marjorie Thomas of Los Angeles has been spending the week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Hortense Hill.

Liquid Air to Be Featured at Community Club

Liquid air will furnish the basis of the program for the May meeting of the Men's Community Club in the Congregational Church on Thursday, May 17. Prof. E. C. Watson of the department of physics, California Institute of Technology, will be the speaker and will bring along from the institute laboratories a supply of liquid air and apparatus for demonstration of the many interesting features of very low temperatures.

It is probable there will be no colder place in the United States than the liquid air containers which Prof. Watson uses in his demonstrations. The experiments are fascinating to young and old, the properties of various familiar substances changing in startling fashion when immersed in the liquid.

This will be a dinner event, with the dinner served by the women of the church. Those who partook of the first club dinner, on the occasion of the visit of Dr. Vor Kleinsmid last month, will look forward to this feature of the evening with special relish. Tickets will be on sale soon.

R. M. Barker Laid To Rest With Last Masonic Honors

Russell Maxfield Barker passed away Saturday afternoon at his residence, 282 San Gabriel Court, thus bringing to a close a brave fight for health over a period of ten years. He had been a resident of Sierra Madre nearly six years, having come here in search of relief for tuberculosis which was first noted when his application for enlistment in the world war was rejected for disability.

Mr. Barker was a native of West Virginia, and was 39 years of age. He grew to manhood in Indiana and Ohio. For some years he lived in New York where he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad with every prospect for continued advancement. There he married Miss Ellen Coll, who has been most devoted in her care during his illness and who is well known in Sierra Madre as the municipal nurse.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Barker is survived by his father, J. B. Barker of Conroy, Ohio, and by several brothers and sisters in the east. His genial character and high principles won the friendship of all who knew him.

Funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. A. O. Pritchard of the Congregational Church. Jack Buchanan sang two solos with fine effect. The interment took place in the Masonic plot at Forest Lawn Cemetery, the burial service of the Masonic order being given by officers of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M., with C. L. Twycross, W.M., in charge.

I had the opportunity of visiting the new Goodrich Tire Factory at Montebello this week and found it well worth the time spent to see their new factory.

The equipment is the last word in tire manufacturing.

The bales for raw materials—grinders and mixers, spools of cord, forming the tire carcass, water-curing process, the finishing room and the finished product are all to be seen as you walk thru.

Several makes of tires, including the

THE SILVERTOWN CORD

It is well worth your while to go through this plant and see the process of tire building. Space does not permit more detail.

Come in and let me tell you more about it.

What's Doing At Theatres In Pasadena

THE COLORADO

Richard Barthelmess in "The Patent Leather Kid" shows this popular film star in the part of an Eastside fighter who at the going to war turns yellow, but thru the influence of a girl loses his cowardice and becomes a hero. The story is by Rupert Hughes, and Barthelmess is supported by Molly O'Day. On the stage is Fanchon & Marco's "Radio-Television" idea, showing television for the first time on any stage. Calvin Rolfe and his great band, Colorado News, Topics of the Day, Aesop's Fables and Arthur Clinton at the Wurlitzer, complete a splendid bill.

THE FLORENCE

"Thanks for the Buggy Ride" starring Laura La Plante opens today at this popular theatre. The film deals with the story of a young song writer and his girl trying to sell the song of that title. Fox Movietone Newsreel subjects round out a most entertaining program.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC Reduces Fares 10 to 45%

All One Way and Round Trip Interurban Fares Affected. Special Sunday PASSES Also Introduced. Reductions Mean Big Savings to Passengers and Betterment of Service. Learn What this Means to You.

WITH THE BELIEF that lower fares will foster greater community development and bring mutual benefits to all concerned, one of the most sweeping reductions in interurban fares known in the history of electric railways has been established as a trial.

By the new plan all fares are reduced to the very minimum required for operating expenses in the belief that increased passenger volume will offset losses caused by the reduction in fares.

If the Pacific Electric profits it will thus be from the increased number of passengers who avail themselves of the new fares. It cannot expect to profit otherwise.

COMMUTATION FARES

For some time past commutation fares have been below the actual cost of rendering service. To put such fares more nearly on the basis of actual cost, a slight increase in commutation rates has been established.

Commutation Books have been simplified also. Now only two are available.

#1—A 60-day, 40 day book for those who use the Red Cars daily or very frequently.
#2—A 46-day, 90 day book for students under 19 years of age who are attending institutions of learning.

$1 and $2.50 SUNDAY PASSES

In order to place the Big Red Cars at the service of thousands of people who have leisure time on Sundays, low rate passes are now available.

The $1.00 Sunday Pass entitles you to ride anywhere on the Pacific Electric system west of Upland, except Mt. Lowe. The pass is good all day—from early Sunday morning until 2:00 A. M. Monday. Use it on motor coaches as well as interurban and street car lines. With it you may visit all of the nearby beaches and interior cities in one day if desired.

The $2.50 pass entitles you to ride all day Sunday anywhere on the Pacific Electric system.

Buy your pass from any agent or Red Car conductor.

For further information call any Pacific Electric Agent or information bureau or send coupon below.
